

The Company

Chiltern Hills Watercoolers is a privately owned British company founded in 1990 to specialise in the supply of watercoolers and bottled water to offices.

With Head Office and the source of water located just outside Tring in Hertfordshire, its location is ideal for supply to London and the Home Counties.

At Chiltern Hills, we are committed to supplying bottled water of the highest purity on time, every time. This, along with the state of the art watercoolers we install, guarantees our customers receive a high quality value added service at an extremely competitive price.

The Service

Whether it is one watercooler you require or several, our aim is to offer the best service levels possible.

Once you become a customer, we will schedule you onto a delivery route. Most of our customers receive a visit from us every month, although fortnightly and weekly drops are available.

One of our experienced customer service agents will contact you 2 or 3 days prior to your delivery date and take your order. Alternatively, you can fax or e-mail your requirements or simply have a standing order. Our customer service lines are open between 8am and 6pm, Monday to Friday.

Our team will always advise you on how many bottles to take on a delivery and what stock levels to carry throughout the year.

An important part of our service is the sanitisation programme. In line with the Bottled Watercooler Association's (BWCA) code of practice, we recommend that your cooler should be sanitised every 13 weeks. This is carried out on your premises by one of our qualified service engineers. The process involves the thorough internal cleaning of the machine which ensures the continual quality of the water being dispensed.

THE SOURCE

Chiltern Hills Pure English Water is bottled at source in the heart of the Chilterns, an area of outstanding natural beauty.

Drawn from a depth of 300 ft, it has naturally filtered through the chalk for over 50 years ensuring its purity. This unique water is low in both nitrates and sodium and has a high calcium content.

Our water quality has to meet strict EEC guidelines and is therefore tested hourly by our own on-site microbiologist. All production is only released to the customer once this strict testing procedure has been completed and the results verified (positive release).

As we are using refillable bottles, our production process uses Ozonation as a final protection for our water to ensure it reaches the customer in perfect condition. Ozone, commonly used in the industry, is activated oxygen (O₂) which disperses into the water without affecting the taste or composition.

Typical Analysis	Mg/l
Calcium	101
Magnesium	1.4
Sodium	9

HEALTHY LIVING

More and more people are opting for a healthier lifestyle...

...and discovering the benefits of drinking more water. Water is nature's way of quenching thirst and helping the body function properly. It is vital to health and wellbeing and makes up 70% of our body's composition.

Doctors and nutritionists recommend we drink at least 8 glasses of water every day. Drinking less water than our bodies require can lead to dehydration resulting in poor concentration, tiredness, irritability and headaches. Water keeps the office lively and happy.

As well as the beneficial effect that water has on our bodies, it is the natural and healthy way:

- to help control body weight
- to detox your body
- to enhance alternative therapies
- for anyone who is simply thirsty!
